Re: Bank statements printed on wrong letterhead

Please be advised that bank statements sent out the week of January 15th, 2010 were inadvertently printed using the wrong bank letterhead. Our item processing and data processing outsourced firm, Jack Henry & Associates (<http://www.jackhenry.com/>), manages the bank statement process for WNB, and has been relatively error-free up to this point. Please accept our apologies for any inconvenience this mistake has caused. Thank you.
